

Association for Family &
Systemic Psychotherapy

Advertising with AFSP

AFSP is the Association for Family and Systemic Psychotherapy in the UK. The association provides a range of advertising opportunities. Whether you have a vacancy to fill, or a course, event, CPD, service or product to promote, options are available to suit varying budgets and requirements.

Advertisers regularly include:

- National Health Service trusts ● local authorities ● private healthcare providers
- educational institutions ● counselling organisations ● charities and non-profits

Target a specific audience of qualified family and systemic psychotherapists as well as students in training. We currently have over 3000 members (November 2025). The rich editorial content of Context, the association's magazine, and our website content is also of interest to other professionals working therapeutically with children, adults and families.

AFSP offer three advertising channels, with prices starting from £160.

1. Our website (theafsp.org): A useful resource for family and systemic psychotherapists and related professions, and anyone seeking more information about family therapy and systemic practice. Advertising is available on the job opportunities page, and the events page (short courses, workshops, conferences and events). The advertising pages can be viewed online both by members of the association and the general public.
2. Direct email adverts sent by AFSP on behalf of the advertiser to the AFSP membership. These can be timed to suit your advertising needs.
3. Context is the magazine for the association received by all members and additional subscribers. Produced by AFSP, it is a bi-monthly A4 format, full-colour specialist publication. Context includes editorial, rich and varied articles, special themed issues, high profile interviews and case studies describing practice within family and systemic psychotherapy. Reporting on news, views, research and developments affecting the profession keeps AFSP's membership well informed. Context is published in mid February, April, June, August, October and December (the deadline for receipt of advertising bookings and copy is the 15th of the month prior to publication). Members receive Context free of charge as part of their membership in print and online. It is also available as a subscription and for sale to non members.
4. Please note that AFSP do not offer agency commission.
